Petroleum Transportation

Transportation of petroleum products along the overways of the Russian Ports by oil tankers and oil barges. Some of the fleet belongs to the subsidiaries of the Rosneft Shipping companies.

Transportation of timber

Transportation of timber (round logs) and various types of timber (logs, timber and lumber) along the waterways of the Rosneft Trans group is one of the direct tasks of the group's transportation of the Rosneft Trans shipping company.

Coal and Bulk Cargo

Coal, wood, iron ore, salt and all other shipments of bulk and liquid cargoes on the Black Sea area is carried out by the Rosneft Trans shipping company.

Transportation of these goods is necessary for the normal functioning of the foundry, metallurgical and construction production in the north of the region. Local facilities and heavy industries prefer to use solid fuel for heating during the winter period.

Oversized cargo

Some types of industrial equipment or technology can be too heavy and too large to be transported by road due to the excess of permissible dimensions or weight. Thus, the delivery of cargo to Krasnodar is limited by the railroad's capacity in terms of length, maximum width and height of cargo to be carried, cubes to be loaded, maximum load on a truck, etc.

The container transporting

The transportation of goods in containers is a highly efficient way to move goods within a single transport network, ensuring maximum safety of the cargo being transported and employing advanced technologies of the transport process.

Container shipping involves receiving, and providing. Services for the various industries are
